

Neural therapy Workshops in NY

Theoretical and Practical Courses
Introductory workshop Dec 1-3, 2017

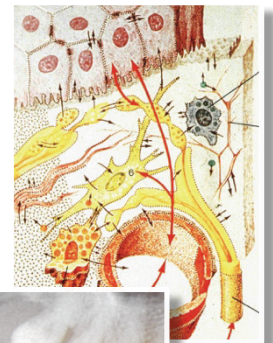

Neural therapy (NT) is one of the most effective therapeutic treatment modalities and is becoming more recognized and requested in the US and Canada. I am inviting you to enroll in two exciting hands-on workshops courses. You can become an excellent practitioner of this versatile therapeutic modality.

This course is addressed to physicians, dentists, NP, PA and veterinarians who are interested in learning how neural therapy works, which are its indications, and wish to incorporate it quickly as a tool in their practice.

The aim of this initial course is to explain the scientific bases of NT, the conceptual bases in order to understand how all the conditions and disorders we have been through since childhood affect us, the relationship between the different current symptoms that are expressed in different organs and tissues, and the somatization of emotion.

This reminds us that every event within an individual is related to each other and that this requires an individualized treatment. The neutralization of the irritation of the autonomic nervous system can unblock the self-healing mechanisms of the body, of the being, so that the remission of the symptoms is not the goal but the consequence.

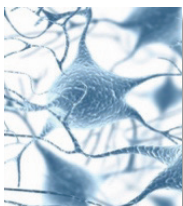

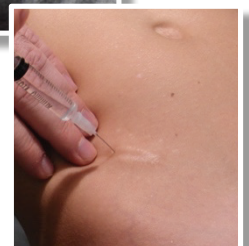

Program

Autonomic Nervous System, extracellular matrix, connective tissue, interference field, Neurofocal Dentistry, therapeutic effect with local anesthetics, phenomena and responses in the treatment, the life history and the special palpation to identify injection points, segmental (reflex points), dental and some deep injections.

Dr. David Vinyes, from Catalonia (Spain) is using NT therapeutic approach for 25 years. He has taught NT courses for near twenty years and is an outstanding teacher. He is the director of the Master's degree in NT from the University of Barcelona (CDSJD).

Dr. Teresa García Caballero is a NT practitioner in the NT Institute (Catalonia) and NT teacher.
